DEATH OF DR. HARPER.

William Rainey Harper, president of the University of Chicago, died at 2:17 p. m. yesterday. Death occurred at the Harper home, Fifty-ninth street and Lexington avenue, Chicago. It came at the conclusion of an illness of about a year from cancer.

"God always helps; he always helps," was the last sentence uttered by President Harper. It was 10 minutes before the end. Immediately he passed into semi-sleep. The doctors were unable to determine whether it was a restful slumber or the coma which resulted from failing heart action.

Almost to the hour of death Dr. Harper's mind dwelt on the university.

"I wonder if there is anything I have left undone," he murmured repeatedly. Three years ago Dr. Harper underwent an operation for appendicitis. Cancerous symptoms followed recovery from this operation, and on February 22, 1905, an operation was decided on to determine the cause of severe abdominal pains.

It was discovered that Dr. Harper was suffering from a cancer at the head of the large intestine and that the malady had progressed so far that an operation to remove it would be fatal to the patient. The surgeons decided that the only hope of Dr. Harper lay in medical measures. In a short time he left the hospital, knowing that his disease could not be cured, and that his death must ensue within a short time. For two weeks Dr. Harper has failed rapidly. He and his family and friends recognized the approach of the end. His physical condition has been kept reasonably free from pain by the use of a very moderate amount of one of the derivatives of opium. His mind remained clear until the end. Physical exhaustion was the cause of death.

Dr. Harper left a statement outlining his wishes for the ceremonies of his funeral. A detail which he emphasized, both in writing and in person, was that no regular university exercise should be suspended except during the hours of the funeral services.

The body will remain in the family home until Saturday. It will then be carried across the campus to Haskell Assembly Hall, in the university grounds, escorted by the university band, the University Senate and the University Council, members of the Senate and the council acting as pallbearers.

The body will lie in state in Haskell Hall until Sunday after midday under a guard of honor composed of students of the university. The funeral services will be held in Mandel Hall, at the university, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. As part of the exercises addresses will be delivered by President Faunce, of Brown University; Chancellor Andrews, of the University of Nebraska, and Dean Judson, of the University of Chicago.

Dr. Harper, who received his bachelor's degree at the age of 14 years, was a man popular with men of business as well as with men of letters, and all united in praising him as a man of remarkable brilliance of mind, executive ability and kindness of heart. Dr. Harper was a Mason and member of many clubs.

Mrs. Morris's Case in Congress.

Mrs. Minor Morris, who was last week ejected from the executive offices and grounds of the White House, was yesterday in a state of complete collapse. Dr. Morris, her husband, stated that her condition is critical. Her physicians have refused to permit anyone to see her or to have any discussion of the affair in her presence.

The ejection of Mrs. Minor Morris from the White House office building was made the subject of remarks by Mr. Sheppard (Texas) in the House yesterday.

Mr. Sheppard has a resolution for an investigation of the incident pending before the rules committee. As he proceeded to recount the details of the incident Mr. Grosvenor made the point of order that the discussion of a resolution pending before a committee was not proper. Besides, it had nothing to do with the tariff bill under consideration.

Mr. Sheppard replied that it had. "I object to a Chinese wall around the White House as well as around the United States," he declared.

"If the gentleman thinks it is a proper subject matter to arraign the President and his household, why let him go ahead," said Mr. Grosvenor.

"I will let the country judge of that," retorted Mr. Sheppard. "If the President had heard the howl of a wolf or the growl of a bear in the adjoining room he would have been on the scene immediately." He continued, characterizing the occurrence as an "unwarrantable and unnecessary brutality, which demanded investigation and merited censure."

"If Congress," he continued, "composed of American fathers, husbands, brothers, permits this incident to go unrebuked, it will add a passive and cowardly approval of this violation of the most sacred principle of American life."

At this point Mr. Payne, of New York, made the point of order that Mr. Sheppard was not discussing the bill under consideration, and when Mr. Olmstead, in the chair, ruled that it was customary when the House was in committee of the whole on the state of the union to allow great latitude, Mr. Payne remarked that he disliked to deprive the democratic party of a new issue, but he thought the speech was one which would be more in place in a police court than in the House.

Mr. Sheppard replied in defense of American womanhood, which, he said, had a place in the House, and concluded his speech with a tribute to the women of the nation.

Mr. Grosvenor took occasion to make a brief reply. He knew no difference between the dignity of the White House and any other home in the city, and he did not consider the American Congress in the sense of a police court or as having anything to do with the question of the disorderly conduct of any employee in the neighborhood of the White House. He did not believe any condition had arisen where the husband of the woman in question could not secure the proper redress. He was not one of those who believed that a sensation should be spread abroad damaging to the character of the American administration.

Introduced to King.

Harry St. George Tucker, president of the Jamestown Exposition Company, who was introduced by Charge d'Affaires Carter, was received in audience by King Edward yesterday morning. His majesty received Mr. Tucker cordially, and showed much interest in the proposal to send British naval and military contingents to the opening ceremonies at Jamestown in 1907, with the details of which he had been made acquainted through the foreign office, war office and admiralty. Mr. Tucker having expressed the desire in America that Great Britain be represented in proportion to her power as a naval and military nation, the King replied that Great Britain welcomed the opportunity of uniting with America in celebrating the birth of the American nation. It has been suggested that Field Marshal Lord Roberts should head the military contingent, and also that a member of the royal family should attend the exposition. Mr. Tucker mentioned this to the King. A personal message of President Roosevelt was delivered to his majesty, who sent a reply. Mr. Tucker will sail for home today.

Broke Through Ice.

While some 600 persons were skating on Custine Lake, an artificial pond out in Fairmount Park, near Philadelphia, last night, the ice collapsed. Almost everybody went in, but as the water is only three feet deep at the deepest part, the plunge was merely unpleasant. Immediately, however, there was a panic. Escorts fought with other men to get their fair charmers out of the ice water and out of the mob. There were many black eyes and skirts and coats were ripped to ribbons. Finally the park guards managed to get together and waded out after the sufferers. When the melee was over there was found only one who had been really much hurt. It was a very pitiable shivering crowd that besieged the cars afterwards and the pneumonia germ was jubilant.

Beat Her Double.

"I knew no one for four weeks when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was cured by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure, stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50c.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best Made

"In my opinion Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best made for colds," says Mrs. Cora Walker, of Potterville, California. There is no doubt about its being the best. No other will cure a cold so quickly. No other is so sure a preventive of pneumonia. No other is so pleasant and safe to take. These are good reasons why it should be preferred to any other. The fact is that few people are satisfied with any other after having once used this remedy. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Soothing and Comforting.

The soothing and comforting effects of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve, when applied to Piles, sores, cuts, boils, etc., subdues pain almost instantly.
